

Glorious Cotswolds Grasslands

Project Officer

£27,264 - £29,066

Full time fixed term contract for 3 years

Assistant Project Officer

£21,899 - £23,692 Pro Rata

Fixed term contract for 3 years, part-time, 3 days per week

Do you want to join the Cotswolds Conservation Board team to help restore internationally important wildflower rich grasslands in the Cotswolds Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty?

We are seeking two confident, dynamic and committed team players to deliver the Glorious Cotswolds Grasslands project, an ambitious project to create the largest connected network of wildflower rich Jurassic limestone grassland. The Glorious Cotswolds Grasslands is supported by the Esmée Fairbairn Foundation and private sponsors.

The Project Officer will be responsible for the day to day management of the project including budget monitoring, report writing and managing consultants, leading on land manager advisory services and initiating a self-financing mechanism to deliver advice, manpower and equipment beyond the life of the project. You will have knowledge and experience of grassland management and restoration and the delivery of advice to landowners.

The Assistant Project Officer will lead the delivery of practical grassland restoration, events and activities for the public and schools and colleges including the arts element of the project. The post will also assist with managing relationships with land managers and project partners and with spatial analysis to guide targeting. You will have experience of grassland restoration and organising events and activities.

Closing date: 12.00 noon, Monday 12th November 2018.
